About the Course

Learn about The Conway Center and our Financial Education Program

The Conway Center

The Conway Center Innovation and Entrepreneurship Center at Smith College is dedicated to fostering innovation, creativity, and entrepreneurial thinking among students. Our mission is to empower students with the knowledge, skills, and resources they need to create meaningful change in the world.

Through innovative programs, workshops, and educational initiatives, we help students develop financial literacy, business acumen, and the entrepreneurial mindset necessary to succeed in today's economy.

(About 10Seven)

(We should insert another section with information on 10Seven)

10Seven

10Seven is a research-driven organization that is advancing wealth justice. We work with organizations, leaders, governmental bodies, funders and beneficiaries to facilitate healing from financial trauma at the individual, community, and systemic levels. We develop educational programming and robust research that targets wealth justice from all angles.

In collaboration with the Conway Center, we are bringing financial education to all students—whether you're just starting to understand wealth building or you're looking ahead to long-term goals. The Fund Your Future course equips you with the knowledge and tools to make sustainable wealth building a reality.

(Need to ask René if they have approved language they are using to describe Fund Your Future they would like to use here)
